What is a Minor Injury Unit (MIU)?

The Minor Injuries Unit (MIU) based at Doddington, Ely and Wisbech provide care and treatment for patients whose injuries or illness are not severe enough to attend Accident and Emergency (A&E).

The MIU is led by nurse and paramedic practitioners who can assess, examine, diagnosis, and provide a treatment plan for patients. The practitioners are supported by highly skilled healthcare assistants and admin support. There are no GPs on site.

This is not an emergency service – for a life-threatening condition, you should always dial 999 or attend your local A&E.

This service is a walk-in service, but appointments can be made via 111. The MIU cannot treat children under two - they will be directed to the local A&E department.

On-site facilities

- X-ray is available. An assessment of your injury will have to be completed and you would have to meet the criteria for an X-ray.
- Wound closures – suturing, glue and steri strips
- Application of plaster cast/soft cast and splints

Pathway of care

The MIU will assess you within the unit. If you require further specialist treatment and assessment, the practitioner will advise you and provide you with this information and the referral needed. If you require an interpreter, we can support you with this via the translation service – please let staff know when you book in.

Waiting times

As this is an unplanned service, waiting times are difficult to predict. You will be informed by staff if waiting times are higher than normal. We aim to see patients as soon as possible, but during very busy times your wait could be longer than we would like. Patients can be called out of turn of arrival - this could be due to:

- Patients seen in order of priority and not on order of arrival and how serious your condition is.
- Patient can be called initially by a healthcare assistant and then will be seen by a practitioner.
- An initial assessment could be carried to ensure you are in the correct place of care and you may be signposted to the correct service.
- You may be sent to X-ray and this can increase your time within the department.

What conditions can be treated?

The MIU can treat:

- Sprains/ strains
- Wounds
- Minor burns/ scalds
- Bites – human, animal and insect
- Eye problems – infection/ injury
- Ear problems
- Minor head injury – with no loss of consciousness
- Joint injury and muscle injury
- Simple urine infections (female only. Cannot treat people under 14 years of age and over-65s.)

The MIU cannot treat:

- Children under the age of two
- Dental problems, or provide prescriptions for a dental issue
- Chest infections
- Conditions that you are currently being treated for with antibiotics
- Chest pain
- Breathing difficulties
- Seizures
- Head injury with a loss of consciousness
- Chest, abdomen, or back injuries
- Rashes
- Severe blood loss
- Earwax removal
- Sexual health or contraception
- Pregnancy problems
- We cannot X-ray back, neck, hips, pelvis, or an injury over four weeks old.

Unsure where to go?

If you are unsure whether to attend the MIU, please call NHS 111 and they will be able to advise you and signpost you to the correct place to be seen.

If your condition is life-threatening, please call 999 or attend your nearest A&E department.

Feedback

We would encourage you to provide feedback about our service. You will be asked on booking in if you give consent to have an SMS message sent to you after your attendance.

Zero-tolerance information

Our staff are committed to treating you with dignity and respect at all times and, in return, we expect you to treat them in the same way. Our staff and their wellbeing is very important to us and we have a zero tolerance policy towards this.
